LOCAL NEWS.

Local news will be found on Page 2 to-day as well as on the other regular pages.

The frame for Charles Donovan's new house on Chestnut Street is up.

It now looks as if Andover would be without any special Fourth of July celebration.

The summer schedule of trains on the Boston & Maine Railroad will go into effect June 26.

Hardy & Cole have purchased the Lowe estate, situated next to the Tyler Rubber factory on Main Street.

Two double story bay windows are being put on the front of R. J. Bradshaw's house on Brook Street by Hardy & Cole.

The grocery and provision stores in town, beginning next Monday, will close every night at 6 o'clock except Saturdays during the summer months.

Fred Rustin, brother of the Yale man who died recently, has resigned his position as third base on the ball nine on account of this death.

The Andover Brass Band will furnish music for the German Turn Verein Society at Lawrence on the morning of July fourth.

Geo. C. Lyle, who recently sold out to T. E. Rhodes, has, it is understood, bought out the restaurant of F. C. Peavey at 541 Essex Street, Lawrence.

It is a pleasure to the many friends and acquaintances of Rev. L. H. Sheldon to know that he is able to be out again.

Rev. Elijah Winchester Donald, D.D., son of W. C. Donald, has been appointed a preacher to Harvard University for 1892-93.

The Juvenile Missionary Society of the West Church will meet at the home of Miss Maggie Ward to-morrow afternoon at 2.30.

The Grammar School will close next Thursday, and there will be a public exhibition in the hall in the afternoon at 2 o'clock, to which the public is invited.

George Lowd, who has just given up his position as baggage master at the depot, has entered the employ of the Merrimack Valley Street Railway company as a conductor.

The auction of furniture at the Craighead residence to-morrow offers the best opportunity in years to purchase some excellent furniture and carpets at auction prices.

Mrs. Richard Major left Andover Thursday for New York, where she will join a party to sail on Saturday, the 18th inst., on the steamship Rugia to Amsterdam, Germany. Mrs. Major will spend the summer with friends in Germany.

The trustees of the Essex Agricultural Society will have a meeting at the Court House, Lawrence, next Tuesday at 9 A.M. to choose committees and make arrangements for the coming fair.

The First Congregational Church of Lowell has extended a unanimous call to Rev. Geo. F. Kengott of Newport, N.H. Mr. Kengott is well-known to many people here, and graduated from the Seminary within a few years.

A grand opportunity for anyone to buy some good second hand house furnishings is offered by the auction at the residence of Mr. Craighead on Pumphrey Avenue, to-morrow afternoon at 1 o'clock. Geo. S. Cole is auctioneer.

David Kinley is in town visiting friends. He will teach Economics and Sociology in the summer university at Bay View, Mich., and next year with Dr. Richard T. Elv at the University of Wisconsin in the same subjects.

Joshua L. Payne, employed by Anderson & Bowman, and who was married to Miss Alice Harris of North Andover, Wednesday, has taken up a residence in Wilbur's block, Maple Avenue.

Children's Sunday will be observed at the South Church next Sabbath, the pastor preaching to them in the morning. In the afternoon at 4.30 there will be a concert, with an address by Mr. S. J. Bartlett of the Seminary.

The Savings Bank sold at mortgagee's sale Wednesday afternoon the Horace Wilson estate on School Street. The purchaser was Sanford Leach, who has occupied it during the past year. The price was $7600.

The Andover Band Orchestra will furnish music for the senior reception at Pumphrey School next Friday evening. Members of the Alumni Association can obtain tickets for this by applying to G. A. Parker of the Insurance office. There will be a concert and promenade until 9.30, after which there will be dancing.

The Prohibitionists of the fifth congressional district met in Lawrence, Wednesday, and chose W. D. Dutton of Lowell as their candidate for congress. Rev. Vanum Lincoln was chosen an alternate to attend the national convention in Cincinnati June 29 and 30.

Miss Robinson, teacher of drawing in the public schools, will have an exhibition of the work done by scholars, in the Superintendent's room in the Town House all next week. The public is cordially invited to call and inspect this work, so that it may be seen just what is being done in this department of our school work.

The street railway has issued a time table which went into effect Wednesday. The principle change on the Andover line is that after the 8.15 car in the morning, cars leave Andover Seminary at eight minutes past the hour and twenty-two minutes of. This will make them leave the town station at quarter of and quarter past the hour.

The strawberry festival which was given by the Pumphrey Alumni Association in the school hall last Friday was quite successful, a good number being present. The arrangement of the tables was very pretty and neat. The unavoidable absence of the Phillips Mandolin Club was much regretted, but the Andover Orchestra, which played during the whole evening, filled in the vacuum in an excellent manner. In all it was a very pleasant and profitable occasion.

Ripans Tabules cure dizziness.

Geo. H. Thwing has accepted a position in a Boston market.

The Tyler Rubber factory closed last night for the remainder of the week.

The front of E. J. Rowe's store has received a new dress of paint and also a neat sign.

Rev. Nathan Bailey, of Methuen, will exchange with Rev. G. W. Clough, of the Baptist Church next Sunday.

Mrs. Annie Sawyer Downs gave the Pumphrey scholars a talk on botany yesterday.

Miss Jennie Y. Middleton of Newark, N. J., is at home visiting her parents who live on Maple Avenue.

The Garfield Club L. L. A. wishes us to ask our readers not to forget the strawberry festival to-night in A.O.U.W. Hall.

The Pumphrey graduating exercises, contrary to our statement last week, will be held Thursday evening June 23, and the reception on Friday night.

The neat little pamphlet containing the speeches of the McKean Breakfast and recently published by the Andover Press is on sale at the Andover Bookstore.

The appearance of the police force, with the new helmet hats, received very flattering comments at the base ball game last Saturday. Several inquired if they were Lawrence or Boston police.

The officers of the Pumphrey Cadets drove to Wakefield last Friday night and enjoyed a drill and dance given by the Wakefield High School cadets.

Among the wills proved at Probate Court in Lawrence last Monday were those of Elizabeth P. Ellis and Geo. F. Mason of this town.

There were services at the West Church last Sunday for the children including a sermon by the pastor and a choral service instead of the regular Sunday school session. The floral decorations were quite pretty.

The Woman's Relief Corps expect to hold an entertainment and strawberry lunch in the G. A. R. Hall, June 27th. The proceeds are to go towards the fund which they propose to raise in some manner during the summer to help defray the expenses of the Post to Washington.

Monday afternoon a baker cart belonging to J. T. Remmes of Lawrence was badly smashed up. The horse became frightened at a passing train, the driver having left him near the house of John Saunders. He ran to the mill yard, and landed up against one of the warehouses.

Levi Young, the painter, was quite severely injured last Friday while painting the ell of the Eastman building on Highland Road. He fell a distance of about 20 feet, breaking a rib and receiving a severe shaking up.

The officers and teachers of the infant department of the South Church Sunday School entertained the children in their charge last Friday afternoon on the lawn near the church. Refreshments were served, games played, and in all it was a very pleasant time.

Children's Sunday was observed at the Free Church last Sunday, the pastor Rev. Mr. Wilson preaching an interesting sermon especially for them in the morning. In the evening the school had an enjoyable concert consisting of recitations, songs, and remarks by the pastor.

By the will of Elizabeth P. Ellis, late of this town, the sum of fifty dollars is to be paid to each of the following societies: The Andover Auxiliary of the McCall Mission, Woman's Board of Foreign Missions, New West Educational Society and the Woman's Home Mission Society for the girls' school at Mount Pleasant, Tenn.

The closing exercises at the South Centre School will be of a slightly different nature than usual. As the work the pupils have been doing was so well shown at the public day in March, it has been decided to have an entertainment at this time, instead, and charge an admission fee of five cents. It will take place next Friday afternoon, June 24, at 2 o'clock. The proceeds are to be used for adorning the walls of the school building. It is a unique idea, and those who have witnessed or heard of the previous bright and pleasing entertainments given by the children of this school will no doubt wish to help adorn the walls to the extent of five cents. The hall should be crowded.

Ripans Tabules cure the blues.

Frye Village.

L. N. Holden of Lawrence is doing the wood-work on Geo. Ward's new house.

Sarah Jane, wife of W. B. Reynolds, died in Atkinson, N. H., last Sunday. She was 62 years old and a former resident of North Andover where the remains were interred. Mr. Reynolds is a brother of Mrs. J. W. Poor.

Joseph Millner and wife of Providence, R. I. are visiting at William Leitch's this week.

Hon. William Sturges of Sunapee, N.H. is staying at the home of his sister for a short time.

The closing exhibition of the village school will be held in Smith's hall next Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

John Babine who has been living on the Frye place has moved into one of the Smith and Dove houses on the back row, also a family by the name of Cuthbert.

Charles Dodson of Cornell University is home for the vacation.

John Kydd was slightly injured in the street railway accident last Saturday.

The meeting in regard to the S.&D. picnic was postponed as no representative from Abbott Village was present.

Ripans Tabules purify the blood.

A Brisk Blaze.

About 2.30 yesterday afternoon an alarm of fire was given for a brisk blaze in the building on Park Street occupied by our well-known furniture dealer, H. P. Noyes. It was caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp in the rear end of the third floor adjacent to the band room. Mr. Noyes who was there at the time immediately ran out and spread the alarm. The floor was pretty well filled with bedding, chairs, tables, etc., and the flames spread rapidly. It was not long, however, before the firemen had streams pouring in at different places and they fought the flames bravely and with good judgment. The deluge of water soon extinguished the fire, but not before the stock on that floor had been pretty well burned or charred. A great deal of the stock on the other floors was removed, but much was damaged by water and smoke. The ground floor was occupied by M. A. Ramsdell, variety store; Ledwell's billiard room and barber shop; and a Chinese laundry. These all suffered some loss by water, and great inconvenience.

The building is owned by Thomas Howell and the loss on that will probably be between $500 and $1,000. It is well insured. Mr. Noyes' stock was insured for $2,500, which will not more than half cover his loss.

Cricket.

The Andovers and Albions met in a friendly contest at Lawrence last Saturday, and as usual the former won. The game was a very interesting one and extremely pleasant, the latter feature being usually absent in these contests. Andover batters were in good form and scored 75 runs. Walker had 17 runs, Porter (retired) 13, Coates 12 and Millar 10 (not out). The Albions made a fine start, Killay and Orme putting on 25 runs for the first wicket. After that little resistance was made Walker moving down his old clubmates in great style. The last wicket fell at 46, Andover winning by 29 runs. An unfortunate accident happened to Judge, one of the Albions. He attempted to catch a terrific liner from Coates' bat, but failed, the ball breaking his thumb and knocking out several of his teeth.

The game between the second Andovers and Merrimacks which should have been played last Saturday has been postponed, the former failing to get an eleven.

Saunders played for the Boston Wanderers, Wednesday, against the Mystics, and secured 7 wickets for 51 runs.

The first team will play the Lawrence athletics to-morrow afternoon on the home grounds. The following men have been chosen: Capt. Bruce, Coates, Millar, Saunders, Low, Graig, Counts, Christie, Walker, Hetherington.

The second eleven will play the second Albions at Lawrence with the following team: Capt. Callum, McGlynn, Boyle, Guthrie, Angus, Wrigley, Wilkie, Dane. The captain will choose the rest.

Weather Notes.

Various people will not enjoy the remaining fortnight of June. Look for a thunderstorm early in forenoon of the 19th, for a fine aurora and high winds between the 22nd and 24th. While we are enjoying dogday weather between the 24th and 27th, Rome may get her underpinning "joggled", old "Phillips" will be treated possibly on the 29th to the closing panorama of the forces that pictured the sky June 14th. A storm from the Atlantic on the 30th will round up the series of "rare June days."

MARRIAGES.

In North Andover, June 15, by Rev. H. H. Leavitt, Mr. Joshua L. Paine of Andover, and Miss Alice Frances Harris of North Andover.

In North Andover, June 15, by Rev. Dr. Mc-Ayeal, Lieut. James Forbes of Co. L., North Andover, and Miss Agnes Matheson.

DEATHS.

In Andover, June 16, John H. Dean, aged 65 years.

In Atkinson, N.H., June 12, Sarah Jane, wife of W. B. Reynolds, aged 62 years.

COLLISION OF ELECTRIC CARS.

Fifteen Persons Injured.

Frye Village, near Stott's hill was the scene of a frightful accident last Saturday afternoon, when two electric cars on the Andover line collided. Some fifteen persons were injured more or less seriously. As near as we can learn the particulars of the accident are as follows:

The open car No. 37 in charge of conductor J. A. Lithgow and motorman Wm. H. Smith left the railway station on Essex Street for Andover shortly after three o'clock, having on board a large number of passengers including several who were on their way to attend the ball game between Phillips Andover and Exeter. Near the Water Street crossing the car met another returning from Andover and in order to let it pass turned on the Water Street line. The next stop was made on the turn-out at the corner of Shattuck Street on South Broadway where a delay of more than ten minutes was made in waiting for another car. The conductor finally decided to wait no longer and went ahead. The trip through South Broadway to Phillips Hill and for a considerable distance beyond was made without meeting a car. At the base of Stott's Hill a car in charge of conductor Folsom came into view. Car No. 37 had started down the hill but on the approach of the car from Andover was obliged to go back to the turn-out on Phillips hill. Accordingly the trolley was reversed. On the turn-out was car No. 35 in charge of conductor Ed Tully and motorman Geo. A. Emery, which was bound for Andover. Car No. 37 passed over the turn-out and owing to the "diamond" switch was obliged to bring up in the rear of car No. 35. Thus the positions of the cars were reversed. After conductor Folsom's car had been given the right of way, car No. 35 started on its way in advance of car No. 37. There were 74 passengers registered on the forward car and on the latter there were over 100 persons including men, women, and children. All the seats were occupied and many were obliged to stand between them and along the steps on both sides. The forward car had reached nearly the bottom of the hill when a passenger signalled the conductor to get off. Before the car had fairly stopped, car No. 37 was seen coming over the top of the hill and in another minute it was coasting down the hill at a terrific rate of speed. Motorman Smith realized the danger when he was within a hundred feet of the standing car. He quickly applied the brake to the full extent and also reversed the motor, but to no avail. The heavily loaded car kept increasing its speed until the crash, when it struck the forward car. Passengers were thrown from their seats in every direction and the air was filled with cries, shrieks, and moans of the injured. After recovering from the shock, the uninjured set to work to help the less fortunate, and a telephone message was sent to Marshal Sheehan for the ambulance which was at once sent to the scene. Motorman Smith, who stuck to his post, was found in a terrible condition, and a woman, Mrs. Owen Keefe, was taken in a bleeding condition from beneath the car. A boy also, named John Jackson, about 9 years old, was lifted from between the two cars fearfully wounded. Dr. W. J. Sullivan of Lawrence, and Drs. Leitch and Richards of this town soon arrived and did what they could. Residents of the neighborhood offered their houses for the sufferers and aided all they could. The list of injured is as follows, all belonging in Lawrence, except those designated:

Motorman Wm. H. Smith, right leg broken and left arm fractured.
Conductor J. A. Lithgow, 12 Prospect St., left forearm broken and face and head badly cut.
Mrs. Owen Keefe, Hampshire St., left leg broken and dislocated at the knee and right leg fractured between the knee and ankle.
Johnny Jackson, face and head badly cut, concussion of the brain and internal injuries.
John Smith, 81 Hancock St., right ear nearly severed, face lacerated and head cut.
Thomas Cuning, 233 Water St., cut and bruised about the head and internal injuries.
John Linehan, flesh wounds on both legs.
James W. Farquhar, cuts on head, back and arms.
John Sheridan, injury to right knee.
Michael J. Burton, of Haverhill, cuts on forehead and bruises on face and left eye.
John Scannell, Haverhill, side injured and knee badly bruised.
James Swayne, Haverhill, injuries to head and arm.
A machinist named Gill employed at the McKay shop received injuries to his back and spine. James Ward, Jr., was slightly injured about the arms, and in addition to those enumerated three or four others received minor cuts and bruises.

Mrs. Benjamin Cheever of this town was quite severely injured in her back, being thrown heavily against a seat, and Mrs. John L. Abbott of Central St. also sustained some injuries.

Supt. Morton and Foreman Hunnewell were soon on the scene and overlooked the clearing away of the debris. The superintendent, it is understood, found that a gear of the motor broke in the attempt to stop the car. The officials claim that the employees were not to blame, but passengers are inclined to think that it was the result of carelessness. An investigation will probably bring something to light, and in the meantime the company will doubtless be called to settle a number of suits for damages.

Town Flag Pole.

The following letter written to a well known Andover lady, is self-explanatory:

My dear Miss—

I have been in Andover a number of times lately and regret to see the lack of patriotism existing in my native town. I refer to the absence of a "town flag pole." True you have flags on your schoolhouses, but when a pupil graduates is that the end of his instruction of love and patriotism for his flag and country? I am ashamed of my town; ashamed that her sons and daughters should have let the old flag pole become almost forgotten without an effort on their part to replace it.

I have in my possession a flag which was the property of my grandfather, the late Benjamin Hayward, and which floated from a staff in the town of Andover upon the receipt of news of a "victory" from the seat of war in our latest civil struggle. Has the love of country which made men leave so many pleasant homes in Andover, many never to return, "deserted?"

I hope not. I trust you can find time to give this matter attention. If you cannot will you put it in the way of notice of that bright little paper the TOWNSMAN? If a subscription is started I will gladly subscribe $10 toward purchasing and maintaining a staff, flag, etc.

Yours very sincerely,
LOUIS T. HOWARD.

Andover Seminary wants Funds.

Andover Seminary, which for twenty years has made no public appeal for money, now asks an addition to its funds of $350,000. This is made necessary in part by depreciation of its investments and decreased rates of interest, so that the income is not sufficient to maintain present salaries. For this purpose an addition of $150,000 is required. The sum of $50,000 is asked in order to add $500 per year to the salaries of five professors, which are less than those of the others. For keeping the buildings in repair, $50,000 is needed. An endowment of $30,000 would provide for a musical instructor. A fire proof addition to the library would cost $30,000. The students' fund calls for enlargement and another building for social and other purposes is much desired. The recent increase in the number of students in the Seminary makes this appeal to its friends and supporters the more important and imperative.—Congregationalist.

Well Lighted.

In lighting the World's Fair, 92,622 incandescent lamps, of sixteen-candle power each, will be used, according to present estimates. The contract for furnishing and maintaining these lights has just been let to George Westinghouse, Jr., for $339,000. This is more than $1,300,000 less than the Edison-Thomson-Houston electrical combine, or trust, first asked for the work. This immense saving was affected by rejecting the bids and readvertising. Mr. Westinghouse is required to file a bond for $1,000,000 by June 10 to guarantee the faithful execution of his contract. In addition to the incandescent lamps, about 5,000 arc lights of 2,000-candle power each will be used. The contract for these was let some time ago at $20 per lamp.

A New Bible.

We are to have a new translation of the books of the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments. It is to be called in bibliography the American Bible. A distinguished band of professors and scholars, the most noted in Europe and America, will prepare the translation, each taking charge of one of the books. Professor C. A. Briggs, who goes in so powerfully for what is called among Biblical scholars the "higher criticism," and who has been disciplined in the Presbyterian church therefor, will translate the Book of Ruth. President W. R. Harper, of the Chicago University, will translate Zachariah, and assist in editing the whole work. The editor in chief is the well known Hebrew scholar of Johns Hopkins University, Professor Paul Haupt. Professor W. H. Ward, editor of the New York Independent, undertakes the book of Habakkuk. The Apocrypha and the rejected scriptures will have their place in the new translation.

The learned gentlemen having charge of this vast work will bring to bear upon it all the light of modern criticism and research. Especially will they endeavor to separate "the everlasting inspired substance and quintessence of the Bible from later additions and interpolations." As a work of reference among scholars this new American Bible will in the beginning have its greatest value.

Movement to have Good Roads.

The movement made in this State to instruct the Board of World's Fair Managers of Massachusetts to urge upon the Directors General of the Exposition the great importance of a comprehensive exhibit of the construction and maintenance of roads, in which road making and road making machinery can be shown as an object lesson by skilled workmen, is in the right direction. Good roads are the most urgent need of many American rural districts whose wealth and general enterprise fully entitle them to the best of highways. Instead of this the badness of American country roads is proverbial. The pecuniary loss inflicted upon the United States by bad roads in one year is very great. People in cities may think that this does concern them, but they are mistaken. The marked check upon trade each spring owing to well nigh impassable country roads in some sections of the country is significant evidence of the extent of the actual loss inflicted by the maintenance of highways which would not be tolerated in any civilized country in Europe. A road making exhibit at the Fair, if rightly managed, might serve a valuable educational purpose.—Reading Chronicle.

How a Coat of Tar Feels.

People who read of tarring and feathering by White Caps and others know that the punishment is a very unpleasant one, but few imagine how terribly painful and dangerous it is. In Wyoming I once saw a man who had been tarred and feathered, and although he fully deserved the discipline, I could not help pitying him. Hardened tar is very hard to remove from the skin, and when feathers are added it forms a kind of cement that sticks closer than a brother. As soon as the tar sets the victim's sufferings begin. It contracts as it cools, and every one of the little veins in the body is pulled, causing the most exquisite agony. The perspiration is entirely stopped, and unless the tar is removed death is certain to ensue. But the removal is no easy task and requires several days. The tar cannot be softened by the application of heat, and must be peeled off bit by bit, sweet oil being used to make the process less painful. The irritation to the skin is very great, as the hairs cannot be disengaged, but must be pulled out or cut off. No man can be cleaned of tar in a single day, as the pain of the operation would be too excruciating for endurance, and until this is done he has to suffer from a pain like that of ten thousand pin pricks. Number of men have died under the torture, and none who have gone through it regard tarring and feathering as anything but a most fearful infliction.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Finally a friend who was visiting at our

I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months, and since that time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

The Delight
of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends

We wish to call attention to the fact that this is the only Studio in the city making a specialty of Crayon and Pastel Portraits of the Finest Quality. We have more samples and better grade than can be seen in any other Studio. Don't be "worked" on cheap Bromide Prints—they fade. We are sole agents for Calcott's Patent Mounts, a beautiful Souvenir for the Holidays. We have adopted scaled prices for cabinet work, but still retain their general excellence. We also carry an exquisite line of Portrait Frames, all of New and Artistic Designs. You are invited to call and inspect them and judge for yourself.

News in Four Minutes.

We do not think that the record made by the Andover Press last Saturday, in issuing the Philippian after the game, has ever been excelled, if equalled, by a country printing office. Exactly eight minutes after the last man was out, and four minutes after the last half of the copy for the ninth inning was brought into the office, the Philippian extra was for sale on the street. The Andover Press most effectively demonstrated quickness by the production of the extra, originality by the horn souvenir, which was a long paper horn made up in blue and white with a rousing "blow" in it, and beautiful work by the souvenir card of which 1000 copies were sold.

The fire yesterday afternoon was the most disastrous one which has occurred in Andover for a number of years. That it was not more so is due to the very excellent work of the firemen and volunteers, and to the excellent water supply which was used so effectually. But if the fire called attention to these excellencies, it also showed some things that need remedying at once in this department. The fact that the chain on the cap to the hydrant nearest at hand was so tangled that it could not possibly be opened should bring about more order in the systematic inspection of the hydrants.

"Where are the long ladders?" was the query on every tongue, and well might it be asked, where are they? The hook and ladder truck may be pretty but it is of about as much use as a bean-blower would be for modern war. The town needs several more long ladders including at least one modern extension ladder, and they should be bought at once.

Christian Endeavor Convention.

A great deal of interest is being manifested throughout the State in the great International Convention of the Societies of Christian Endeavor at New York July 7-11. Twenty-two thousand delegates from all over the country have already applied for accommodations, including two thousand from this State. The remarkably low rates from Boston of $4 for the round trip by boat, and $5 by rail, have been granted by all the lines. A special C. E. train will leave the Park Square Station by Shore Line at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, July 6, carrying the officers of the United Society and the Massachusetts State Union, and other delegates who desire to go at that time can notify the General Passenger Agent of the Old Colony. There will be no other official excursion from Massachusetts this year. Delegates desiring to stop over at the Teacher's Convention at Saratoga can secure round trip tickets from Boston via Hudson River and Saratoga at $8.50. These are the only special excursions that have been arranged, time being allowed for attendance upon all the sessions of the convention.

Abbot Academy Commencement.

Pleasant skies but very hot weather was the condition of things during the exercises of the sixty-third anniversary of Abbot Academy, which came to a very successful close Tuesday afternoon. These exercises together with the lawn party were held on the campus, a large number of alumnæ and friends of the school. The occasion, while of course a joyous one, was saddened by the fact that it was the last commencement of the school while under the direction of Miss McKee, closing a period of 33 years of faithful service.

The commencement really opened last Friday night when the twenty-fifth annual Draper reading occurred in Abbot Hall. The room, as usual, was well filled with the young ladies, their friends, and invited guests. The young ladies who took part showed a careful preparation under the direction of their eminent teacher, Prof. Churchill, and all did excellently. The programme was as follows: Summer Joys at Flowery Grove, Mary H. Beal, Detroit, Mich.; Four Mice, Elizabeth D. Nichols, Amherst, N. H.; Murillo's Little Slave, Fannie S. Gordon, Tokio, Japan; Tennis: Nat. Granton vs. Betty Mork, Henrietta A. Calhoun, Albert Mines, N. B.; Flying Words, Eleanor L. Holt, Portland, Me.; La Cica, Annie D. Ingalls, Louisville, Ky.; Easter Lilies, Bertha L. Manning, Andover; David and Dora's Housekeeping, Katherine S. Slade, Middlebury, Vt.; The Night-Watch, Helen F. Gilchrist, Lampasas, Tex.; Tom's Strategy, Aida Dunn.

Sunday morning the South Church was crowded with an audience to listen to the annual baccalaureate sermon, which was delivered this year by Rev. W. G. Sperry of Manchester, N. H. It was an able discourse and was listened to with the closest attention to the end. His text was Matt. 7:28-29, which took the close of Christ's sermon the Mount. He drew from this text as the principal thought of his sermon "The authoritative quality in Jesus Christ," who as a pure example of the truth and life always exercised his right to command, but in a gentle yet authoritative way. He exhorted the young ladies, as they had lived under authority here, to follow in the train of Him on whose banner was inscribed Victory, never defeat. The speaker also made a touching allusion to the departure from the school of Miss McKee.

Monday occurred the Lawn Party which is more fully spoken of in another column.

Tuesday the exercises opened at 9 o'clock in the Academy Hall with the following programme:

Music.—Semi-Chorus.
Essay, Superstition, Miss Gilchrist
Music.—Soirée de Vienne, No. 6.—Schubert-Liszt.
Reading, "The Value of Money," Miss Odell.
Reading, "Easter Lilies," Miss Morton.
Music.—Polonaise, Op. 26.—Chopin.
Miss Beal.
Essay, The Influence of Women upon National Life, Miss Staats.

Then followed that very pretty part of graduation, the vine exercises, when Miss Sanborn gave the class oration and transferred the spade to Miss Nettleton, president of the class of '93. The vine song written by Miss Lawry was sung, closing this interesting exercise.

It was about 11 o'clock when the whole company adjourned to the South Church where quite a large audience had assembled to listen to the address of Rev. Alexander McKenzie, D. D., of Cambridge. After the voluntary and march by Prof. S. M. Downs, when the young ladies marched in and took seats immediately in front of the pulpit, under the marshaling of James Hardy Ropes, a chorus from the school sang "Hark! Hark my soul," and Rev. Lyman Whitting of Claremont, Mass., gave the invocation. The chorus rendered another selection and then Prof. Churchill, who presided, introduced Dr. McKenzie, saying that this was the third time the faculty had requested him to speak words of cheer to the school. Dr. McKenzie did not take any special text or theme for his address, but spoke in a general way in an intensely interesting manner. He considered it a privilege, for the third time, to speak to the graduates of Abbot, especially as this graduation was of more personal interest to him. His reference to the pleasantness of the day, the causes and the manner in which he linked it with divine thought, was an able one.

"It would be well for us to consider that we are a part of this great scheme of things," he said, "so that we may catch something of the meaning of this world of which we are a part, for behind all of what you see of nature's doings today, is the wisdom, the power, the goodness of God. There must be built up that perfect society which was intended and which we now realize. Men have been sluggards rather than students, blind men rather than seers. The organizers of such an institution as this were wiser than the moderns, because such education is the working out of the perfected society. As we look out beyond the Seminary gates we see one more element thrown out toward the organization of the Republic of God. The world needs the sunlight of this day, and the truth and intelligence which makes life a blessing. It is not long since the three principles of university extension, college settlement and Andover House were advocated first, but by these we are surely working out God's intent. By the Andover House we mean, not the architecture or the construction of the building, but we mean the Andover forces spreading the sunshine, the light, the quiet and the liberty. All these things go toward perfecting that society which we need. Suppose there should go out from these towns wherein nestle our colleges, to the cities the ideas and inspirations and the sunlight, breaking down the tenement house walls and into the dark cellars, what an advance it would be. There should be no monopoly of this world's sunshine.

There is no use in having college settlements unless something is done for the people. Graduates, you have not studied one thing or learned one lesson that is not needed in the slums of Boston or the deeper slums of New York. All you can learn here is much needed outside, not for the one but for the ninety and nine. Astronomy, even could they but know something of it, would better them, if they were but told and explained that this God's work, the thought of the Creator as much as the most valuable plant, and of the relation of God to it. Of history, they who hold the destiny of this nation in their hands should know its history. Some of the people of course are French, but your knowledge of this would serve you well. Others are German, but you have studied German, and so on through the entire list of foreigners. The grace of telling the truth should be explained, in hopes of bringing about the perfection of this society toward which all things should tend."

He then paid a worthy tribute to Miss McKee. Prof. Churchill then spoke of the unspeakable reluctance with which the trustees had accepted the resignation of Miss McKee, and Prof. Taylor spoke earnestly in behalf of the trustees, of their grateful appreciation of her 33 years of service, a period unequalled in length and unsurpassed in force. He then presented diplomas to the graduates after which the sixty-third anniversary came to a close with the singing of the parting hymn "My times are in thy hands," and prayer and benediction by Rev. Arthur Little of Boston. The graduates were: Helen Ferris Gilchrist, Lampasas, Texas; Margaret Winifred Spear Lawry, Rockland, Me.; Bertha Louise Manning, Andover; Blanche Morton, Hamilton, Mo.; Charlotte Lovett Odell, Beverly; Clara Augusta Sanborn, Hallowell, Me.; Emilie Staats, Pasadena, Cal.

A dinner and reception to the trustees, alumnæ, friends and invited guests followed at Draper Hall, and at 2:30 the alumnæ association held a meeting in the Academy Hall.

Theological Seminary Anniversary.

The events of anniversary week at the Theological Seminary have transpired under every auspicious circumstance, and in a very successful manner. They began last Sunday afternoon with the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class by Prof. W. J. Tucker. Though the weather was very warm every seat in the chapel was taken up. Prof. Tucker gave a strong, able and earnest discourse, taking as his text Eph. 4:13—"I'll we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fullness of God." The subject of his sermon, which he deduced from this text was "The Persistence of the Christian Type," and he ably presented the nature of this type and its essential elements. "Christianity," he said, "has committed itself to the response of human nature, and its first and controlling sentiment is gratitude, then obedience and obedience working through gratitude. The Christian type has passed through two great tests. First, through the power of influence, and second Christianity on its positive side. Could the Christian contend as well as suffer? The test through which it is now passing is the severest of all, that of responsibility. Christianity will always do its work through individuals. We should utilize the influence of human nature in the enlargement of the Christian type. Enrich the type and you enrich the individual. What makes a man a Christian is the response of gratitude to God. In time of discouragement, young men, make sure of one thing, that your Christianity is a sufficient one."

Monday and Tuesday were taken up with class examinations. Tuesday evening, the eighty-first anniversary of the Society of Inquiry, was observed in the Chapel in the presence of an interested audience. The object of this society is to stimulate interest in missionary work, and that was the principal thought of the evening. The president, W. W. Ranney of North Bennington, Vt., presided. The exercises of the evening were fully enjoyed and this was added to by selections from a quartette, consisting of Messrs. Parada, Patton, House and Coffin, and a solo by John Rounds Smith. Four members of the Society gave some very clear and thoughtful orations which showed careful preparation. They were as follows: C. F. Brown on "Convert Heathendom to convince Christendom," J. H. Denison on "Pictures from New England," M. W. Williams on "Missions and the Home Church," W. J. Allis on "The Church's Missing Link."

Wednesday was alumni day and a large number of ex-members of the Seminary were present at the exercises. The morning was given to further examinations. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the annual meeting of the alumni was held in the stone Chapel. Rev. J. G. Merrill was elected chairman and the following alumni committee was chosen for the ensuing year: Prof. E. Y. Hinde, Rev. E. S. Tead of Somerville, Rev. B. M. Fullerton of Waltham and Rev. C. C. Carpenter. Rev. Mr. Carpenter was also re-elected secretary.

The necrology for the past year was read by the secretary Rev. Mr. Carpenter. Forty-six names are recorded in the lists, the same number as last year. Six of them belong to the record of previous years but have not previously been reported. The average age of the forty-six men is sixty-nine years seven months and twenty-one days. Thirteen of the number had passed the age of four score years; thirteen were between 70 and 80, and all save four, were over 50. In at least nine cases death resulted from la grippe. As regards seminary classes, the list extends from Dr. Addison Kingsbury who left Andover in 1828, to Mr. Frederick, who, as member of the advanced class attended these anniversary exercises one year ago. The names of many will be readily recognized, as those of Drs. Backus, Skinner, and Wood of the Presbyterian Church; Professor Shackford of the Unitarian Church; Professor Aiken, the eminent scholar; Professor Loomis, the distinguished scientist, and President Blanchard, the vigorous reformer. Others like Dr. Spaulding, Mr. Hathaway and Mr. Tuck, have been well known in New England pastorate. Four, including the lamented Constantine, were foreign missionaries, and a still larger number, like Mr. Peet and Mr. Waldo, endured hardships in the no less important work of laying foundations in the then obscure home missionary fields of the West. A few have been stricken down—like Professor Smith, Dr. Foster, Alfred H. Hall and Austin H. Burr—in the prime of life's work.

Prof. Ryder then offered prayer, after which the discussion of the afternoon on "Sunday School Instruction" was begun. The speakers and their subjects were: The Influence of Critical Research on Sunday School Instruction, by Prof. Moore of Andover Seminary; "The Proper Method of Selecting Sunday School Lessons," by Rev. A. E. Dunning, D. D., editor of the Congregationalist and himself a member of the International Sunday School Lesson Committee; and "Modern Educational Methods applied to the Sunday School," by Rev. Ernestus Blakeslee, who has planned and issued a new scheme of Bible study which has taken the place of the international lessons in many schools. It was a very interesting subject, being practically a discussion on the merits of the International Sunday School Lessons as championed by Rev. A. E. Dunning, and the Blakeslee Outline Lessons as upheld by Dr. Blakeslee.

Prof. Moore said that the real end of Sunday School teaching is not educational, but religious—not the making of Biblical scholars, but of Biblical Christians. This fundamental fact determines the relation of the Sunday School to the Bible. The Sunday School is not for the purpose of teaching about the Bible; most certainly it is not a "Bible School." On this ground, it appears that the critical uses and religious uses of the Bible are absolutely separate. There is, however, one thing to be borne in mind. Because critical study modifies thought it is necessary to have some reference to its results when selecting Sunday School lessons. There are some doubtful passages selected occasionally by the International Committee which ought to be passed over. A great deal of fault would be overcome by the selection of the lessons along some definite and distinct line. The trouble now is that there are several lines which are followed by the committee which continually cross each other at every possible point and in every conceivable way. The pedagogic principle must be followed in Sunday School teaching—that is, the lesson must be adapted in its material as well as in its teaching to the needs of the pupil.

Dr. Dunning said: "There are certain facts to be kept in mind at the very start, with reference to the selection of Sunday School lessons. These facts are six in number. First, the Bible is the only text book of the Sunday School; second, they are studied in classes with a voluntary attendance of teachers and pupils; third, there are but 52 half hours in the year devoted to their study; fourth, all ages and all degrees of attainment must be brought to concentrate interest upon them; fifth, the lessons must be selected with a view to stimulate daily study, but must be kept in proportion to the requirements of weekly lessons; sixth, they must be so selected that each one will be suited to accomplish its purpose independently of the others."

These facts are sufficient to kill most of the conceptions between the Sunday School and day school. There are four principles of selections of lessons based upon these facts which are of importance. The first of these is that they must be so selected as best to accomplish the purpose for which the Scriptures were given, that is, to win allegiance to Christ, and to furnish a rule of Christian conduct. The second principle of selection is that they must be so selected as to assume the greatest interest of the largest number. The third is that they must be selected to suit the condition of the Sunday School as a whole, and finally there must be provision made for advanced study.

Rev. Ernestus Blakeslee said success in Sunday School instruction means spiritual strength in the church of the future; failure means weakness. We need first a clear understanding of the main object of the Sunday School. This I would define to be instruction in the facts and teachings of the Bible, with a view to the influence of the truth in producing and developing Christian character. Among the modern educational principles which ought to be applied to the Sunday School lessons is that of the study of the Book itself rather than what men say about the Bible. I do not longer the proper method to study books by taking the text book first. The flower comes first. Another great principle which should be applied is to study the outline of the subject first and the details afterward. It is of vital importance that the children of our Sunday Schools should be taught the great saving truths of the Scriptures in childhood. An outline of Bible teaching is therefore necessary. Moreover, many leave the Sunday School at 10 or 12 years of age. The growing, and, therefore, changing child ought to have methods adapted to his needs. The best way to fix truth in accordance with modern educational principles is to require the restoring of it by the pupil after instruction.

The question was discussed by several others, including Rev. F. W. Greene, Prof. Roy, Prof. Hinde, and Dr. M. L. Gordon. The first named had tried the Blakeslee system in his Sunday School and was much pleased with it. The events of Wednesday came to a close with the usual very enjoyable reception given by the ladies of the faculty from six to nine in Bartlet Chapel, attended by alumni, students and other invited guests.

Yesterday was the closing day of this pleasant and successful commencement. The order of exercises included the anniversary addresses by six members of the graduating class, and a large audience listened to them, being much pleased with the thoroughness and careful preparation which they showed. The following was the programme:

Music.
The Mysteriouness of Jesus, Bedford, Mass.
Edwin Ray Smith, Bedford, Mass.
The Ethical in Religion, Farmington, Me.
Oliver Dana Sewall, Farmington, Me.
The Recovery of the Old Testament, Ann Arbor, Mich.
William Henry Walker, Ann Arbor, Mich.
Theology in the Pulpit, Greenville, Mich.
Carl Sanford Patton, Greenville, Mich.
Sacrifice in Christian Life, New Bennington, Vt.
William Watson Ranney, New Bennington, Vt.
The Preacher's Opportunity in the Truth Discernive of his Period, St. Louis, Mo.
Robert Charles Denison, St. Louis, Mo.

The parting hymn written by Mr. Jordan of the graduating class, and prayer by Rev. Mr. Smith of Bedford closed this service. The following received diplomas:

William Baker Allis, Andover; Emil Benjamin Barry, Chicago, Ill.; Edward Benjamin Blanchard, Andover; Henry Lucius Bradford, Boston; Robert Charles Denison, St. Louis, Mo.; Edward Delevan Disbrow, Alcester, S. D.; Edward Fairbank, New Haven, Ct.; James Church Gregory, Norwalk, Ct.; Charles Francis Hersey, Waterville, Me.; Charles Sumner Holton, Everett, Wash.; Walter Perkins Hutchison, Somerville, Mass.; Oliver Dana Sewall, Farmington, Me.; Edwin Ray Smith, Bedford; John Rounds Smith, Salem; Edward Roland Stearns, Saco, Me.; William Henry Walker, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Henry Harding Wentworth, Bristol, Ct.; David William Arbor Mich.; David Lewis Yale, Meriden, Ct.

At one o'clock the Trustees, members of the Board of Visitors, and past members of the Board of Trustees and Visitors, donors to the Seminary, Faculty and Alumni, Examining Committee, teachers and clergymen in Phillips Academy, and members of the graduating class, to the number of one hundred or more, sat down to the annual dinner in Bartlet Hall, at which Rev. Daniel T. Fiske, president of the Board of Trustees, presided, and called the meeting to order, as usual, he made some astute and pertinent remarks after which he introduced the post-prandial speakers among whom were: Prof. E. C. Smyth, Dr. A. H. Quint, the new member of the Board of Visitors, Rev. C. J. Hill of the examining committee, Judge R. R. Fish of Claremont, Dr. Gordon and E. R. Stearns of the graduating class, and others. The singing of the Doxology brought to a close another year at the Seminary.

Obituary.

The oldest business man in our town passed away last night in the person of John H. Dean, who died of heart disease at his home on Main Street about 6 o'clock, after an illness of about ten weeks. He was a native of Scotland and had lived until to-morrow would have been 65 years old. Thirty-five years have passed since he first came to town and began the business of tailor and gent's furnisher here, and in that time he has of course become acquainted with a large part of our citizens. He formerly kept store in the building now occupied by Benj. Brown, but for the most of the time has been at the present well known stand. Such a period of prosperity in one place is seldom equalled and can only be secured by honest and upright dealing.

Mr. Dean was a citizen respected by all who knew him. He did not engage at all in public affairs or hold public office, but at the same time was deeply interested in all matters pertaining to the town and for its best welfare. He was a member of St. Matthew's Lodge of Masons and also of the South Church. One sister who lives in Nova Scotia survives him and also a family consisting of a widow, three sons and three daughters, who have the sympathy of the community in their loss. The funeral will occur at his late home next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Andover's Victory over Exeter.

Not only in tennis, foot-ball and on the track has Phillips Andover shown how far she towers above Exeter during the past school year, but to cap the climax and to make a clean record, in base-ball also, the New Hampshire boys being neatly taken into camp last Saturday afternoon by a score of 10 to 5. To be sure Andover may well feel proud of such a complete list of victories. Never, in the history of the game between these two great fitting schools, has there been such a crowd of spectators as thronged the campus last Saturday afternoon. Carriages by the hundreds, and people by the thousands came from Andover, Exeter, Lawrence, Lowell, Haverhill, Boston and other places. It is estimated that fully 4000 people saw the game. Considering the poor prospects at the opening of the season, the team made remarkable development. Paige did not have as good control of the ball as usual, but nevertheless was very effective. He was finely backed up by Catcher Greenway and in fact the whole team played with a dash and an energy which meant victory.

The Exeter contingent arrived by special train at 2 o'clock, and soon appeared on the campus for short practice. Andover also held a little preliminary practice, but at 3 o'clock the game was promptly called, with T. C. Pope and F. C. Ayer of Boston as umpires. Greatly to Andover's delight, Millard hit the first ball pitched for three bases and safe hits by Hedges and Greenway followed, netting three runs. Exeter was easily shut out. The second inning proved more disastrous for Exeter than the first. Seymour made three errors, the centre fielder dropped a fly ball, and Hedges and Murphy hit safely. Before Exeter was able to get away from this confusion six runs had crossed the plate. Exeter scored two runs in her half of this inning, two in the third, and Andover made one more in the fourth. After this the only run made was by Exeter in the eighth, as both teams had settled down to good, steady work.

For Andover—Hedges, Murphy, Millard and Greenway excelled, while Chase, Haradon and Brown did Exeter's work. The umpiring was very fair and both sides were treated about alike. The victorious team was borne off the field on the shoulders of their admirers, and in the evening the usual celebration took place, consisting of a parade headed by the Andover Band and followed by the team on the Elm House trolley, and the students. Various professors made speeches and a bonfire on the campus brought the festivities to a close.

Ripans Tributes cure nausea.

Lawn Party.

The lawn party at Abbot Academy Monday afternoon can certainly be classed as an unqualified success, if the many complimentary remarks of those who attended count for anything. The newly cut lawns and the cleanliness apparent everywhere gave the grounds a more beautiful appearance than ever, and the guests, especially those who visit here only occasionally, seemed perfectly delighted as they strolled about. Each guest on approaching the entrance booth was presented with a handsome souvenir badge, on which were pictures of the Academy buildings. Then the ushers, consisting of Marcus Morton, chief, James H. Ropes, Donald Churchill, and George F. Smith, escorted the guests to Draper Hall, where they were received by Miss McKean, Miss Watson, the principal-elect, Miss Means, president of the Alumnae Association, which gave the party. Over five hundred old scholars and friends were received between the hours of four and seven.

Suitable refreshments were served on the rear lawn by Caterer Tanner of Haverhill, in his usual excellent style. The occasion was also enlivened by music furnished by a Boston band. To Mrs. S. M. Downs and Mrs. Selah Merrill, especially, is due great credit for the highly social and successful occasion.

That Lowell Opinion.

Mr. Editor:

"Citizen" (or Rev. V. L. as many suspect him to be) is still floundering in his misconception of the Lowell opinion, and in his letter of last week asks me to inform the readers of the TOWNSMAN "whether the Lowell opinion has reference to public school or to the Pynchard School."

It is a gratuitous task to inform people of what they already know. The readers of the TOWNSMAN are not all so dull that they need to be told again, and I trust they will pardon me for saying that the Selectmen sought the opinion of Lowell lawyers as to the right of the town to appropriate money to enlarge the building commonly known as the "Pynchard School House." The opinion was that there was no good reason to doubt the authority of the Town to do so, and counsel set forth certain facts leading to that conclusion, which are briefly, first, that the Town owns the land and said building; second, that it was lawfully acquired for school purposes; third, that the Town has not parted with any of its interest in or control of the property; fourth, that the Town has never recognized that the Trustees under the Pynchard will have any interest in the property; fifth, and that "there has been no action on the part of the Town which would prevent the School Committee from exercising its authority of charge and supervision over the school which is provided for in the public statutes."

Now, Mr. Editor, this last quotation from the opinion is what has so befogged my friend, "Citizen." The school building in question was erected for a high school at a time when we had a high school, and the Pynchard was suspended for want of quarters and means to provide quarters. That high school was and is the school provided for in the public statutes. The Pynchard is unknown to the Public Statutes, is nowhere referred to therein and can never become subject thereto, because founded by a private citizen for a purpose long recognized as legal, and expressly so recognized in this instance by the charter to the Trustees granted by the legislature in 1851.

The opinion has reference to "the Pynchard" so far as it relates to the ownership and authority over the building now occupied by it, and it has reference to "public schools" when by way of argument it speaks of "the school provided for in the Public Statutes," that is, a high school, for the use of which the building was erected. But, Mr. Editor, this discussion is fruitless and unnecessary, and when it comes to using such hyphenated adjectives as "compound-double-acting-shifting" to qualify the action of the Trustees, I think, as one of the board, that we shall have to take to the woods and let "Citizen" have the last word.

I do not think the Selectmen, School Committee, Pynchard Trustees, or Pynchard will are on trial, and I shall conclude my way on the matter by quoting from a note I received this week from the writer of the opinion, Mr. Trull, in which he says "I don't think we disagree at all about the Andover School question."

BALLARDVALE.

Ed Kneeland will have ice cream for sale at his store during the warm weather. Wednesday evening during the band concert he did quite a thriving business dispensing the cooling material.

Mr. A. E. Rhodes of Wollaston has been visiting his brother-in-law, Rev. C. H. Fuller.

H. H. Appelman of Mt. Hermon has been in town the past week.

The fire bell was rung yesterday afternoon for a brush fire on the land of Geo. Pillsbury. Some ten or twelve acres were burned over, but no damage was done as the fire was confined to light brush. Sparks from a steam saw-mill did the mischief. The horses were not needed for the steamer. If they had been—

J. W. Wardwell has had his house painted a pretty shade of yellow.

The horses attached to Holt's ice cart became frightened Wednesday morning when near the Square and ran into the fence around the liberty pole, demolishing two lengths and breaking the attachments to the cart. The damage, however, was not great.

The frame work is up for Chas. Pearson's house on the plains.

L. H. Schneider is having a fence put around the Oak St. side of his place.

HARRISON AND REID

THE CHOICE OF THE CONVENTION
AT MINNEAPOLIS.One Ballot Settles It—The President's Nomination Made Unanimous—Whitelaw Reid Nominated by Acclamation.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 10.—The most startling and significant thing done by the Republican convention at Minneapolis yesterday was the taking of the vote on the adoption of a minority report from the committee on credentials. The adoption of this report meant a victory for Blaine, its rejection a victory for Harrison, and the vote was officially declared thus: Ayes, 423; nays, 402.

The morning session of the convention lasted less than twenty-three minutes, and nothing was done but adjourn to 8 o'clock in the evening.

At the evening session, which was called to order at 8:40, the majority and two minority reports from the committee on credentials were received.

There was a considerable squabble over these, and it was not until a long argument had taken place that a rollcall of states was demanded. This rollcall was demanded by the Blaine men, and in tones and terms of defiance.

The Platform of the Convention, after rehearsing the benefits the country has derived from Republican rule, reaffirms the doctrine of protection and denounces the efforts of the Democratic party to attack the tariff laws.

It alludes to the benefits derived from reciprocity, favors bi-metallicism, commends the proposed international monetary conference, and demands a free and unrestricted ballot.

It denounces outrages in the southern states, favors the extension of foreign commerce by home-built ships, favors the enactment of more stringent pauper and contract immigration laws and legislation for the protection of employees.

It expresses sympathy with home rule in Ireland and protests against the persecution of the Jews in Russia.

It protests against trusts, approves the extension of the free delivery system and promises a reduction of letter postage to 1 cent.

It commends reform in the civil service, favors the admission of the remaining territories and legislation favorable to the Columbian exposition.

It expresses sympathy with temperance, and promises renewed care to the veterans.

It concludes with a strong commendation of the administration of President Harrison.

BENJAMIN HARRISON.

The business of the last day of the convention began at 11:35 a. m. The remainder of the report of the committee on credentials was acted upon, the majority report being adopted, and some other trifling matters disposed of.

Then began the great battle. When Colorado was reached on the call of states for nomination speeches, Senator Wolcott, he of the free silver voice, arose and placed before the convention the name of James G. Blaine of Maine.

The name of Benjamin Harrison was presented by Richard Thompson of Indiana. The nomination was seconded by Chauncey M. Depew of New York.

Blaine's name was seconded by Warner Miller of New York, and other speeches followed.

At 3:17 balloting commenced, and, except for the interruptions of cheers and a few challenges, proceeded so that at 4:17 it was completed and soon after announced. Chairman McKinley moved that the nomination be made unanimous, and this was done.

The convention was called to order for the evening session at 8:40.

The rollcall of the states for presentation of names for vice president was commenced at once. When New York was reached State Senator O'Connor presented the name of Hon. Whitelaw Reid of New York. The speech of Mr. O'Connor was seconded, and then J. C. Settle of Tennessee arose and placed before the convention the name of Thomas B. Reed of Maine. This was afterward withdrawn, and then the convention, by acclamation, placed Mr. Reid before the country as its candidate for vice president.

Then Chairman McKinley was moved a vote of thanks by Elliot, Shepard of New York, and this of course was unanimously passed. Resolutions thanking the other officers of the convention for their services and thanking the people of Minneapolis for their hospitality were passed unanimously, amid great cheering.

Major McKinley was appointed chairman of the committee to notify the president of his nomination.

Then the committee itself was appointed and at 9:57 the convention adjourned sine die.

Work of Wicked Urchins.

BOSTON, June 13.—Hannah Sullivan, aged 7, living at 3 Yeoman street, while at play in the street in front of her house, was the victim of a crowd of mischievous boys, who set her clothing on fire. The clothing was burned entirely off from her back and shoulders, severely burning her body. She was taken to the city hospital, where her wounds were dressed. She will probably recover.

Prohibition Preachers.

HARTFORD, June 16.—The Ministers' Prohibition union of Connecticut was formed here and adopted a constitution and by-laws. Rev. S. B. Forbes of this city, a former Prohibition candidate for governor, was elected president, and Rev. Harvey Linsley of South Windsor recording secretary.

WOMAN SOLD FOR $650.

A Peculiar Transaction Which Makes Trouble for Three Persons.

PALMER, Mass., June 10.—In the district court here H. O. Daniels told Judge Robinson that he had sold his wife to a man named F. O. Snyder for $650, and that the couple were living together at the Nassawann house.

The trio came to Palmer about a month ago. They were well dressed, and of good address. The woman, who gave her name as Mrs. Snyder, was engaged as waitress in the hotel, and the man took lodgings there. They seemed to have no visible means of support.

About a week ago Daniels skipped town, leaving an unpaid board bill. He was located at Warren and arrested. He said that the woman, calling herself Mrs. Snyder, was really his wife, and that for $150 cash and a note for $500 he had sold her to Snyder.

Warrants were issued for the arrest of Snyder and the woman. Upon Snyder's person was found a written contract, signed by Snyder and Daniels, in which the latter agrees to relinquish all claims to his wife for the consideration named. Snyder covenants to take her as his wife and care for her. The contract was dated Feb. 7 at Sherborn.

Judge Robinson ordered Snyder held in $300 bonds to answer to the charge of adultery, while Daniels is held in $100 bonds to answer to the charge of defrauding a hotel. The hearing is set for the 20th.

HILL NOT GUILTY.

He is Acquitted of the Charge of Poisoning His Wife.

BIDDEFORD, Me., June 16.—The celebrated Saco poisoning case, which has been on trial three days in the York county supreme court at Alfred, ended in the acquittal of the respondent, Living L. Hill of Boston. Hill was charged with sending his wife a poisoned ham. The chief point upon which the prosecution was based was the analysis made by Professor Wood of the Harvard medical school, who found traces of arsenic in Mrs. Hill's urine.

It was brought out that the relations between Mr. and Mrs. Hill were not very congenial, and that he had offered to give her $300 to get a divorce from him. Eight witnesses testified for the defendant, evidence being introduced to show that Hill sent the ham in the same barrel with other meats and vegetables, and shipped them to Amos Libby, North Saco, with instructions to divide them with Mrs. Hill, but none of the packages were marked with the name of the recipient.

The evidence of the prosecution that detectives found a bottle of Fowler's solution of arsenic on a table in Mrs. Bunnell's house in Boston, where Hill boarded, was met by Mrs. Bunnell's deposition in which she declared that the bottle was hers. Dr. Davenport gave expert testimony concerning arsenical poisoning, and Professor Robinson testified that in the analysis of Mrs. Hill's urine, sent to him, no trace of arsenic was found. The defense introduced testimony tending to show that Mrs. Hill's sickness might have been due to arsenic in the wall paper in her room, or in a colored quilt on her bed.

MYSTERIOUS POISONING CASE.

Corrosive Sublimates Used to Poison Hiram Dings and His Family.

VAN DUSEN, Mass., June 15.—A sensational case of poisoning in the family of Hiram Dings has just been made public in the west part of Great Barrington. The household, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Dings and son, Adelbert, are people of respectability, residing on a farm. They were taken violently ill with cramps in the stomach.

A physician was called, and soon after other doctors came to consult about the strange illness. After investigation they all decided that the family were victims of an irritant poison given to them at various times, but not in sufficient doses to cause immediate death. As near as could be determined, the deadly drug, supposed to be corrosive sublimate, had been put in their food and pastry.

W. A. Sperry, who was at work on the Dings farm, ate a meal there, and was at once taken violently sick. He went home and took to his bed. A doctor was at once called in, who administered an antidote. But Mrs. Dings, who has been a feeble woman for several years, is yet suffering from the effects of the drug.

The family say they have not had any poison in the house for years. The strange case is called mysterious, but a domestic of the house has been recently discharged.

A Lynn Elopement.

LYNN, Mass., June 15.—Percy St. Clair, aged 26, an agent for the sale of pianos, and Bertha Colony, 16, his clerk, are missing from this city, under circumstances which strongly point to an elopement. St. Clair left his wife behind, and Mrs. Colony denounces the disappearance of her daughter.

A Sensational Suicide.

HOLYOKE, Mass., June 16.—Joseph Harvey, 30, shot himself in the head while standing on the edge of a canal bridge in this city. His body fell into the water and was swept away. His tragic end was witnessed by many persons. An attack of the grip probably had something to do with the deed.

Murderer Almy's Counsel at Work.

CONCORD, N. H., June 15.—Messrs. Burleigh and Story of Plymouth, counsel of Murderer Almy, are here examining law reporters in the state library, preparatory to submitting a printed brief and getting ready to argue the case orally before the full bench of the supreme court July 11.

Morrisville's Boom.

MORRISVILLE, Vt., June 15.—In special meeting yesterday this town voted to exempt from taxation for five years the real and personal estate of any new manufacturing business, and to exempt for ten years any new manufacturing enterprise employing fifty or more men.

A Dismal Tale from Newfoundland.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., June 15.—The steamer Panther, from Battle Harbor and points on the north coast of Newfoundland, land reports much starvation and misery among people on the northern coast. At the island of Domino the people have suffered terribly.

A Singular Accident.

ABINGTON, Mass., June 15.—Jacob Reed, aged 70, of this place, sustained serious injuries by falling upon a scythe blade. He was cut about the face and neck in a horrible manner and his recovery is regarded as doubtful.

Hanged Himself.

LEWISTON, Me., June 13.—R. C. Jewett, aged 70 years, a well-known grain merchant of Auburn, hanged himself. He had been sick, and was suffering from mental depression at the time.

A REMINISCENCE OF WILD BILL.

His Feat in Killing Two Men Who Had Pistols Levelled at Him.

Among the prominent citizens of Hayes City in the last days of Kansas railroad building was "Wild Bill" (William Hickok), who had been a serviceable scout in the Union army along the Arkansas border during the war. Bill came to Hayes City with the prestige of having killed nine men, unassisted, who had cornered him during the war intent upon his death. He, too, had followed "the K. P." railroad along every inch of its construction from Manhattan. His personal appearance and the complexion of his white handled revolvers had become quite familiar all along the road, and especially at Abilene, during its days as the terminus of the Texas cattle drive, where, as city marshal, there was never a cowboy who got "the drop" on Bill.

Wild Bill in those days was "the Slade" of western Kansas, the man who Mark Twain says in "Roughing It" was respected in Nevada for having "killed his man." In physique, as the writer remembers him, he was as perfect a specimen of manhood as ever walked in moccasins or wore a pair of cavalry boots, and Bill was a dandy at times in attire—a regular frontier dude. He stood about 6 feet 2 inches tall, had a lithe waist and loins, broad shoulders, small feet, bony and supple hands, with tapering fingers, quick to feel the ears or pull the trigger of a revolver. His hair was auburn in hue, of the tint brightened but not reddened by the sunlight. He had a clean, clear cut face, clean shaven, except a thin, drooping, sandy brown mustache, which he wore and twirled with no success, even in getting an upward twist at either end. Brown haired as he was, he had clear gray eyes. He had a splendid countenance, amiable in look, but firm withal. His luxuriant growth of hair fell in ringlets over his shoulders. There was nothing in his appearance to betoken the dead shot and frequent murderer—except his tread. He walked like a tiger, and aroused, he was as ferocious and pitiless as one.

Bill's means of livelihood at the time he was in Hayes City went unquestioned, and there is no reason for agitating the subject at this late day. As "a killer," however, Bill put himself on record very shortly after coming to Hayes City. His first exploit was a double shot, a right and left fusillade. The writer witnessed the affair.

Two men came out of Tom Drum's saloon, and walked toward the newly built depot, surrounded by a raised platform. Each man had a pistol drawn, when suddenly from a group of four or five "crack! crack!" went two pistol shots and Wild Bill stood on the edge of the platform with a smoking bone handled revolver in each hand, and the two men who had been approaching the platform were seen to totter, stumble forward and fall. Death was instantaneous in each case, as if Jove had hurled a bolt at the men. A row over cards the night before caused the double death and a double funeral as soon as the corpses could be prepared for interment.—St. Louis Republic.

NOLLY TOUCANS.

I know no fowls of the air which more admirably typify in their own persons the effects of a forestine tropical fruit eating life than the gorgeous toucans. Their big bill enables them to reach out from afar at fruits as they sit at their ease on the trees that bear them, and to toss them off at a gulp in a large and airy manner that is very characteristic of all the whole-swallowing fruit eaters. They are gregarious and sociable birds, to a great extent organized into a fixed community; for they make common cause against enemies, such as owls and falcons, whom they surround and mob with one accord after the fashion of all dominant races, as rooks do in England.

Having thus little need for protection, they are noisy and clamorous in their native woods, resembling in all these respects the other gregarious fruit eaters, like parrots and monkeys. In short, they display for us in full perfection the free, democratic, fearless, open and gossipy life naturally engendered in tropical surroundings among powerful and social frugivorous species.—Cornhill Magazine.

The Judge Liked the Weed.

A judge in one of the mountain districts told the sheriff to call in John Riddlepiper Lochinvar Hanks. The sheriff, after almost dislocating his jaw over this euphonious title, finally ushered Mr. J. R. L. Hanks into the courtroom and up to the judge's stand.

"What is it, your honor?" said Mr. Hanks.

"Ah," said the judge, rubbing his hands, "I only wanted to ask you for a chew of that excellent tobacco you gave me yesterday."

He got it.—Dalton (Ga.) Citizen.

A Lesson for Papa.

Little Pet—I dess those biscuits mamma made was dest wright, wasn't they?

Papa—Yes, they were delicious.

Little Pet—I didn't try zem, but I knew say was.

Papa—You did? How?

Little Pet—You didn't say a word about zem.—Good News.

OBSERVATORY.

Busy bees in Chicago and in all parts of the world are fast bringing to completion plans for the elaborate buildings which are to hold the exhibits of the Columbian Exposition. The model of the Californian building is especially interesting. It is fashioned after the quaint old "Missions" peculiar to the state of California. Around the dome is designed a tropical garden with palms growing high above the main building. The interior will be filled with mountains of luscious fruit, banks of gorgeous hued flowers, piles and cabinets of precious ores and rocks. One of the thoughtful plans of the Board of Lady Managers is a pavilion specially devoted to tired mothers and children. Skilled nurses are to be in attendance, so that mothers may be permitted to enjoy the sights of the Exposition with peaceful consciences, knowing that their children are being well cared for. This feature will be a blessing not only to the mothers but to the public.

The largest fountain in the world is to be erected in Jackson Park and Sculptor McMonie of New York, the designer, has gone to Paris to have the work executed. The idea is that of an apotheosis of modern liberty. Columbia will assume the shape of a triumphal barge, guided by Time and heralded by Fame. There will be eight standing figures representing the arts, science, industry, etc. and eight big sea horses will form a circle in front of the fountain. The smallest figure of this colossal fountain is to be 12 feet high and the largest 20 feet high. The dedicatory ceremonies are arranged to take place on the 12th of next October. A special invitation will be extended to President Harrison, members of his cabinet, the judges of the Supreme Court and others, to be present on that eventful occasion.

The political contest waxes hot and already we hear the distant thunder and roar of the coming battle. The wives of the good citizens who uphold their party with patriotic fervor, dread this recurring warfare of every four years as much as if it were a real and bloody fray with deadly weapons. Even now one sees groups of excited partisans on the corners of the streets discussing the news, and anxiously scanning the Bulletin of the moment. The latest telegram is of far more importance than the summons of the dinner-bell (after this point is reached the case is incurable), and family interests are entirely eclipsed by the all-absorbing "politics"; the heretofore devoted husbands spend their leisure moments wherever those congenial crowds of fellow-patriots may be found discussing the affairs of the Nation. Nor do all the political army come out unscathed from the great campaign. Though the scars may not be visible to the naked eye, the wounds are more cutting and less easily healed than those of the sword; and after the chances of war are over the consolation of a pension comes not always to the deserving. To the victors do the spoils belong, but the supply of good things in the official cupboard is by no means equal to the demand Sic est.

Of the many large publishing establishments in America, Harper Brothers can lay the greatest claim to permanency. The firm of to-day occupy the same spot where their grandfathers worked the old-fashioned printing presses eighty years ago and were glad to make by a year of labor what the firm now makes on one book. The first members of the firm, John and James Harper, started with a capital which they had saved as journeymen; after forty years of labor their establishment was entirely destroyed by fire, sweeping away the profits of a lifetime. This at first dazed and crushed them, but they went to work and started life all over again for the sake of their children. They soon regained their prosperity over and above their highest hopes, and the children who are the present Harper Brothers are possessed of a half dozen millions.

A little girl, attending a public school in Yonkers where special attention is paid to the best pronunciation of the English language, was overheard in a speaking illustration of the use of the letter "a" as "she is spoke" in different localities. "When I'm at home," explained Marjorie to a little friend, "I say, it makes me laff an hour and a half to see the calf go down the path; at school I must say, it makes me laff an hour and a half to see the corf go down the path."

RUTH CARR.

Does Protection Protect?

Certainly, in one instance, it does. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great protection against the cancers of impure blood, and it will cure or prevent all diseases of this class. It has well won its name of the best blood purifier.

NORTH ANDOVER.

Work on the Maple Avenue sewer was resumed Wednesday.

The Selectmen held their monthly meeting at the village office last Monday.

Hon. M. T. Stevens returned to Washington last Monday.

Mrs. T. C. Martin has been spending the week with friends in Gloucester.

Mr. Frank Davis is improving very slowly, but cannot as yet do any work.

A number from town attended the Abbot Academy lawn party Monday afternoon.

The Merrimack Valley Union of Christian Endeavor Societies meets June 25 at Hudson, N. H.

Road Commissioner Smith has been making valuable improvements in the vicinity of Osgood and Pleasant Streets.

Mrs. S. H. Furber has presented the Public Library with memoirs of the late Benjamin Punchard.

A number of people from this town attended the Unitarian conference in Lawrence on Wednesday of this week.

The N. A. Charitable Union had its regular meeting on Thursday of this week on account of the conference on Wednesday.

Haying has commenced in earnest at Hill Crest, Mr. Edward Adams having the contract to cut and cure the whole crop on the farm.

Tuesday was our first severely warm day of the season. In a number of places the thermometer registered 98 degrees F. in the shade.

Mr. Joseph Jacobs has purchased the valuable horse, formerly belonging to the Eben Sutton Fire Department.

George L. Barker was chosen foreman of the jury which met at Salem this week on the Lawrence boodle case.

One of the men at work laying the gas pipes on Church Street was prostrated by the extreme heat Tuesday forenoon.

The engineers have purchased a new four-year-old colt to be used in the fire service of the Eben Sutton Company.

The foundations of a new house for M. T. Stevens and Sons are being laid on Osgood Street. Joseph Trombly is doing the mason work.

The rails on the new electric extension are laid to the top of the hill beyond the town-house, with the exception of the curved corner ones, which have not yet arrived.

A bush of beautiful Jacqueminot roses in full bloom adorns the grass plot in the yard of Mrs. Samuel Downing, Church Street.

It has been remarked that the appearance of the grounds about the Town Hall would be greatly improved by the construction of a new fence.

The Manchester Unity of Odd Fellows, which has several members resident here, voted Wednesday evening not to accept the invitation to take part in the parade at Lawrence July 4.

The first car-load of poles for the use of the electric road arrived at Stevens' crossing, Tuesday. As excavations have been made for their reception along the line on Pleasant Street, it is expected that they will soon be seen in place.

Owing to the high temperature of Tuesday, the men in the employ of the Electric R. R. Co. who were at work on Osgood Street were obliged to suspend labor for a few hours during the middle of the day.

Several people from town were passengers on the electric cars at Andover, Saturday, at the time of the collision. Druggist Stearns received quite a severe cut upon the head, and was somewhat bruised. Others, however, were fortunate in escaping uninjured.

During the past week Road Commissioner Tuttle has been at work changing the grade and making other improvements of "Lovers' Lane," leading from Osgood St., below the Town Hall, to Prospect St. It is understood that there has been but very little done by way of repaving this old public way for the past twelve years. When the rough places are made smooth and the grade made easier, it is expected that after the electric cars begin to run to the Centre, this road will be more generally traveled.

The marriage of Lieut. James Forbes and Miss Agnes Matheson occurred at the residence of the bride's brother, Mr. George Matheson, Osgood Street, Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. McAvay, of Lawrence. The couple departed Wednesday afternoon for a trip to Maine. On their return they will reside on Springfield St., So. Lawrence.

Mrs. Sarah, wife of William B. Reynolds of Atkinson, N.H., died very suddenly, June 12, of heart disease. She was a former well-known resident of this town, having lived for a number of years at Meadow Brook farm. She leaves a husband and three children, Miss Clara, of Boston, and Mr. Charles, of Atkinson, N.H. Interment in the Reynolds lot in Ridgewood Cemetery, Wednesday afternoon. Her age was 62 years.

At the Congregational Church Children's Sunday was observed by a sermon suitable to the occasion from the pastor, whose text was "And a little child shall lead them." The church was prettily decorated with potted plants, ferns and daisies. In the evening a concert was given in the auditorium, under Superintendent Frye. A choir of eight young ladies, Misses Downing, Baldwin, Gilman, Bixby, Marston, Carney, Merrill, and Harris, rendered selections. Recitations and songs were given by the little ones, two short sermons by Masters Currier and Woolley, a solo by Miss Lizzie Saunders, and a brief address by the pastor. At the conclusion of the exercises a potted plant was presented to each child.

James M. Craig has resigned his position as janitor of St. Paul's Church, to take effect July 1. Mr. Joseph Midwood will succeed him.

The members of Wynona Lodge have been invited to be present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Harris tomorrow evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua L. Payne, who are members of the lodge.

Examinations of pupils for admission to the Johnson High School, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons at 2 o'clock.

Public exercises will be held in Room 7, Merrimack building, Wednesday afternoon, June 22, at 2 o'clock, to which all friends of the school are invited.

The Mechanics Band gave a concert at the Lawrence ice cream grounds last evening.

The annual supper for the children under sixteen years of age, who attend the Congregational Church, was held in the vestry Tuesday evening and called forth a large number. After a large quantity of good things had been disposed of, the younger children entertained the older ones with several motion songs which were well rendered, as much time had been spent in rehearsing them. Andrew McLean then exhibited some magic lantern views which caused very much merriment. The whole affair was under the direction of the social committee of the church.

Paine-Harris.

A very pretty wedding occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Harris, Wednesday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, when their elder daughter, Alice Frances, was united in marriage to Mr. Joshua L. Paine of Andover. During the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. H. H. Leavitt, the couple stood beneath a large horseshoe, that emblem of good luck, composed of evergreen and daisies with the floral letters of P and H. A large bank of daisies and ferns tastefully arranged adorned the mantle. The bride was attired in a pretty costume of white Swiss muslin, cut en train, and wore a corsage bouquet of white roses. Miss Fanny Harris, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid, and was clad in a becoming gown of cream Bedford cord; she also wore white roses. Mr. Albion F. Rich of Charlestown performed the duties of groomsmen. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was tendered the guests, a large number of whom were present from town, and also from Haverhill, East Somerville, Ipswich, Brighton, Eastham, Lawrence, Charlestown, and Wakefield. Congratulations were heartily offered by all present, and the evening passed in a charmingly happy and social way. Over one hundred invitations were issued, the occasion marking the twenty-third anniversary of the marriage of the bride's parents. The ushers were Messrs. James and Walter Hayes and William McQuestion. Mr. and Mrs. Paine left town late in the evening for a short wedding trip. Various omens of good luck followed the couple upon their departure. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Paine will reside in Andover. They will be at home to friends after July 1, Wilbur's Block, Maple Avenue.

A large number of beautiful and useful wedding gifts were presented, among them were: A silver cake basket, Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Dodge of Brighton; large silver spoons of all descriptions from each of the following: Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Hinckman, Mr. Albion F. Rich of Charlestown, Master Geo. L. Harris, Brighton; Miss Alice A. Paine, Eastham; Fred Carr, Mrs. John Davis; one-half dozen silver teaspoons from each of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Moses Harris of Ipswich, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wiley, Mrs. N. S. Paine of Eastham, Mr. and Mrs. David Sabin of Haverhill; spoons from cousins of the bride, Newburyport; silver spoon receiver, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Harris, Brighton; silver butter knives from: Miss Mary D. Harris, Ipswich; Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Frye; sugar spoons, Mr. and Mrs. Will Harris, Ipswich; Calvin Horton, Somerville; butter knife and sugar spoon, Masters John and Bertie Kelley; the same from Mrs. Thomas Higgins, Haverhill; dessert spoons, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. ## A Woman who Suffered

TELLS HOW

SHE FOUND RELIEF.

HALLEDALE, ME., Oct. 2, 1890.

DANA SARSAPARILLA CO.:

Gentlemen:—I have been troubled with Muscular Rheumatism ever since I was thirteen years old. I am now forty-seven. And for years I was subject to the most terrible attacks of headache, that would almost drive me distracted. About every week I would have to call a physician, I would have such awful distress in my stomach, caused by indigestion. My agony was so intense I often thought I should die. I was unable to sleep nights. Would have to sit up hours and hours; and it was but natural that I should feel all dragged out. Life was a burden to me. Such was my condition when I began to take DANA'S SARSAPARILLA. I have taken but three bottles as yet, and had but one attack of the old distress in my stomach after I commenced taking it. It has cured my headache, taken the tired feeling all out of me; and I can go to bed and sleep all night. It has helped my Rheumatism a great deal, and I have no doubt will cure it. Yours respectfully,

PHOEBE A. GILCHRIST.

Don't be a bigot! We offer you relief, or charge you nothing.

GUARANTEED TO CURE.

If a Reliable Friend

Told you that he knew of an uncommonly good thing in Suits—not only good, but costing little—wouldn't you, if you wanted a Suit, be interested in his story?

IF YOU ARE

In the mood for buying Clothing, we believe that we can interest you in a special purchase of Summer Suits, that we've just made.

THE GOODS

Are INDIGO BLUE PEACEDALE SERGE, the finest and best of American fabrics of this class, made in single breasted Sack Suits, well trimmed and neatly put together. The price $10.00 A SUIT.

PEACEDALE SERGES usually retail for fourteen dollars, unnecessary to say that at $10.00 they're remarkably cheap.

That There may be

No mistake about the goods, we sell every Suit with a guarantee label attached: It's well to ask for the "Peacedale guarantee" when you're shown a Serge Suit for less than fifteen dollars.

Our price for "GENUINE PEACEDALE SERGE" SUITS, in this lot, $10.00.

S. W. FELLOWS.

We are about to make great changes, by making our store more extensive, so as to have more room for our large stock of WALL PAPER. This department will extend through to and facing the street in the rear next to our printing office. In order to enlarge our store we must remove our stock, and to do so we have reduced our prices one half. We keep first class goods without gilt, such that the Andover people are so partial to: and goods that you won't find in any other store in Lawrence. We have experienced paper hangers and white-washers, whose work we guarantee to give good satisfaction.

A 1 paper for 50c. Our 50c papers are now 25c. 40c gills for 20c; 30c gill for 15c; 25c gills for 12c. 15c paper for 8c, and 10c paper for 5c. We can give you a nice gilt paper for 10c.
